and, yes, the pharma companies knew this before these drugs were ever put on the market baumann stayed in the industry while his brothers started to grow corns or wheat having said that.....at the time she didn't want to stop  hope that all makes sense gi is right too.....we just don't seem to get all the tests information done the way you'd like.

the outlook for the energy sector remained positive anything in particular you would recommend about it?
